

BRAVA

MAGAZINE

Employment Opportunities and Internships

Freelance Writers

BRAVA Enterprises is seeking talented freelance writers to report on a variety of topics and people. Prior to submitting your materials, please view our writer's guidelines.

Please send query and writing samples to Managing Editor Sarah DeRoo: sarah@bravaenterprises.com. No phone calls, please.

Editorial Intern

Editorial interns will work with both production and editorial staff members to assist in creating a high-quality publication from cover to cover. From researching stories, writing sidebars and short features, fact checking and other in-house editorial tasks, our interns gain valuable hands-on experience in magazine publishing.

Interested candidates should be involved in or studying journalism or English. Previous writing experience is preferred, but BRAVA will consider anyone who has an interest in gaining experience in magazine journalism. Candidates must be organized, enthusiastic, dedicated and willing to learn. You must be able to commit a minimum of 15 hours a week.

Please e-mail a cover letter, resume and writing samples to Assistant Editor Meagan Parrish at meagan@bravaenterprises.com.

Marketing & Events Intern

Assist our marketing and events director in all aspects of planning and promoting our annual Madison Women's Expo, which welcomes 8,000 women each November to the Alliant Energy Center. From developing exciting new marketing ideas, analyzing readership and distribution data and managing in-house projects, you'll gain valuable experience working in a fast-paced environment.

Please contact Marketing and Events Director Michelle Page-Alswager at michelle@bravaenterprises.com.

Sales Intern

Gain exciting and valuable insight in the business behind the pages of a magazine by supporting our outgoing sales staff on a variety of projects. Tasks include: Maintaining client contact lists and data entry, preparing presentations and assembling marketing materials, researching leads and assisting in preparations for our annual Madison Women's Expo. Must be organized and able to multitask.

Please contact Michelle Reddington at michellereddington@bravaenterprises.com.

Graphic Design Intern

Design interns will gain valuable experience in every aspect of publication design. The ideal candidate will be independent, organized, creative and proficient in Quark, Adobe InDesign, Photoshop and Illustrator. Responsibilities include: page design, advertising design, assisting at photo shoots and designing other materials for the business.

Please e-mail cover letter, resume and portfolio pdf to Art Director Kristin Joiner at kristinj@bravaenterprises.com.

